[OCTOBER, MDCCLXXIII.] [NUMB. 413.]

THE SOUTH-CAROLINA AND COUNTRY GAZETTE; JOURNAL.

Containing the freſheſt Advices, both Foreign and Domeſtic.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1773.

MR. DE ST. PIERRE having met with repeated and great diſappointments, in his attempt to introduce the MAKING of WINES at NEW-BOURDEAUX, in the back parts of this province, ſo as to render the ſame a conſiderable branch of its trade, merely by the failure of that ſupport which he had reaſon to expect, from ſome of the perſons on whom he moſt relied, to advance the neceſſary ſums to carry him through and compleat this important undertaking.

HAVING, nevertheleſs, under that, and many other diſcouragements and difficulties, ſtedfaſtly perſevered in his zealous endeavours to accompliſh this great end, ſo far as that he has introduced large quantities of the beſt foreign vines that could be procured, as well from Europe as from other places, and now hath four acres or thereabouts of two years growth, in the higheſt perfection, of which an excellent wine may be next year made, of a quality between the Burgundy and Claret.

BUT, finding himſelf in no condition to proceed to attain this deſirable object (although there is no abatement of his zeal and attention) for want of cellars, preſſes, and four able young negroes, or rather of the means to procure them, he finds himſelf reduced to the unhappy neceſſity of ſoliciting the aſſiſtance of gentlemen of public ſpirit, and who wiſh to ſee ſuch an undertaking ſucceed, by a ſubſcription loan of ſo ſmall a ſum as 2000l. currency, to be laid out in the following manner, viz. About 1600l. in the purchaſe of four ſlaves, to be ſeverally inſtructed and employed in the proper management of the wines, ſo as to enlarge the vineyard; without whoſe aſſiſtance, that of four acres above mentioned, cannot be extended. The remaining 400l. to be put into Mr. De St. Pierre's hands to provide himſelf with preſſes, and to build a cellar, abſolutely neceſſary for preſerving the wine, which will be quite different in its nature from that made nearer the Tropics, as at Madera and the Canaries.

IF there ſhould be found gentlemen who will advance the ſum now wanted, which he flatters himſelf there will, he propoſes that the money ſo ſubſcribed ſhall be paid into the hands of a committee, choſen from among the ſubſcribers, who ſhall lay out and take the proper meaſures to ſecure the ſame to the ſaid ſubſcribers.

BESIDES the vineyard under his immediate care, there are already ſeveral other flouriſhing vineyards at New-Bourdeaux, under experienced vignerons; and he expects to receive 50 or 60 000 plants more from Europe this year, for the management of which particularly he ſhall want the negroes.

To conclude, upon the reception this PROPOSAL meets with, greatly depends whether this ſhall immediately become a wiſe country or not.

☞ SUBSCRIPTION-PAPERS are lodged in the hands of Mr. John Coram, Merchant, and at Mr. Wells, Meſſrs. T. Powell, & Company, and C. Crouch's Printing Offices in Charles-Town; where Gentlemen, diſpoſed to aſſiſt Mr. De St. Pierre, will pleaſe to give in their names, and the ſums they are willing to advance, as ſoon as poſſible, it being of the utmoſt conſequence to him, that the application of the Subſcription-Money be made by the firſt day of December next.—In which caſe, his Vineyard may be enlarged next year from four to near fifty acres.

CHARLES MOTTE.

LONDON, August 6.

THE King of Prussia, in his conduct towards the Poles, has so entirely thrown off every appearance of justice, and even decorum, that he lately dispatched a Jew to Warsaw, under the title of his Director of Commerce, and charged him with the distribution of fifteen barrels of base and adulterated coin. The wretched Poles were to accept these, or to be harrassed by military execution.

An East-India Nabob made some shrewd remarks upon the Scotch, who are extremely powerful in that part of the world. He remarked that their country must certainly be very rich and powerful, because all that come from it pretended to the highest distinctions; and that it must be of small extent, because they all knew one another, and seemed to be near relations.

Extract of a letter from Petersbourg, dated July 10, addressed to Prince Gallitzin, the Russian Minister at the Hague.

"Yesterday morning the Empress received a courier from the main army, with the agreeable news that on the 22d of June last Field Marshal Count Romanzow passed the Danube near Hirschoff. His advanced guard under command of the Lieutenants General Stopichin and Potemkin; and Majors General Weissman and Prince Gallitzin entirely defeated different Turkish corps, seized upon their entrenchments, together with all their baggage, and upwards of 30 pieces of brass cannon. The advanced guard is within three worsts of Silistria. Marshal Romanzow observes, that as soon as he has made himself master of Silistria, he will go in search of the Grand Vizir, so that we may soon expect important news from that quarter."

An extract of a letter from Constantinople, dated June 20, says, "Yesterday a number of Muscovite prisoners, amounting to near 3000, were led in triumph through the principal streets of this city, after the Esclavage of the Grand Signior, who, in order the more effectually to secure himself, has for some days past given away bread, &c. to the populace. This is thought to have been done to lessen the ideas the people have long entertained of the Russian victories. Very frequent meetings are held at the Divan, two of which no foreign Minister, except the English, French, and Dutch, is admitted to. The Prussian Ambassador, on account of his Master's conduct with respect to the war with the Court of Russia, has had notice given him not to leave the Ottoman dominions without leave. How this affair will be received when known at Berlin, is a circumstance which is ardently expected to be known. Fresh supplies of troops are daily sending off to the army, but provisions for them are uncommonly scarce."

Some letters by the last post from Holland advise, that a fleet was fitting out at Brest with great secrecy and expedition, the object of which was not publickly known.

August 7. The King of Prussia has lately stopped a considerable quantity of planks, staves, &c. for which the British Merchants at Dantzic had not only contracted for, but even given earnest; nor have the warmest remonstrances on the part of the factory been able to obtain any redress. Application has been made, and a memorial presented by the Merchants of London to the Ministry on the same subject; but we are much mistaken if they meet with more success. The Merchants have entered into contracts with the Navy, and they must fulfil them.

It is said that three of the men of war now fitting out for sea at Portsmouth, are destined for North-America, and are to be ready for sailing the beginning of next month.

Extract of a letter from Moldavia, July 13.

"We have just obtained the following authentic account of an action between 9000 Janissaries and 2000 Spahis, under the command of the Bassa Sare Hossein, and a body of 24,000 horse and foot, under the Russian Brigadier General Suwarow, near the city of Bialogrod in the province of Bessarabia.

"The Russian troops passed the Danube near Oblneice, being detached from the grand army, on the design of taking the city of Bialogrod, which is a place of the utmost importance, as it would insure the sole possession of Bessarabia, and likewise open a new communication with the Black Sea. The Grand Vizir, having notice of this intention before it was put in execution, detached the above-mentioned force under Sare Hossein, to cross the river before the Russians, and impede their march.

"The Turks did cross the Danube before General Suwarow's army, but proceeded towards Bialogrod, judging if they had that place in their rear, they might retire to it if hardly pressed. They encamped in an advantageous situation, having a communication with the town, and with Rilia on the right.

"The Russian army soon came up, and the Turks drew out of their entrenchments to meet them; but after two hours obstinate resistance they gave way, and fled towards the town, leaving their entrenchment with all their baggage, &c. to the mercy of the enemy, who immediately entered, and took possession of them.

"The Turks fortified themselves in the town, which General Suwarow was besieging when the advices came away."

Some letters from Dresden mention, that the Elector of Saxony still continues increasing his army, which now amounts to upwards of 50,000 men.

Extract of a letter from Legborn, July 10.

"By a French ship arrived from the Archipelago, we are informed, that all the Greeks in the Morea have publicly, and absolutely declared themselves subjects to the Empress of Russia, in consequence of which Count Orlow has landed a number of soldiers from his fleet, and taken possession of most of the principal towns and fortresses in the name of her Imperial Majesty.

"Count Orlow, who when the French came away was lying with a large squadron at Tenedos, was preparing to sail on an expedition to the coast of Syria."

Some removes amongst the Governors of North-America are, it is said, now in agitation.

The following Act was passed the last Session of Parliament.

An ACT to allow a Drawback of the Duties of Customs on the Exportation of Tea to any of his Majesty's Colonies or Plantations in America; to increase the Deposite on Bohea Tea to be sold at the India Company's Sales; and to impower the Commissioners of the Treasury to grant Licences to the East-India Company to export Tea Duty-free.

WHEREAS by an act, made in the twelfth year of his present Majesty's reign (intituled, An Act for granting a Drawback of Part of the Customs upon the Exportation of Tea to Ireland, and the British Dominions in America; for altering the Drawback upon foreign Sugars exported from Great-Britain to Ireland; for continuing the Bounty on the Exportation of British made Cordage; for allowing the Importation of Rice from the British Plantations into the Ports of Bristol, Liverpool, Lancaster, and Whitehaven, for immediate Exportation to foreign Parts; and to impower the Chief Magistrate of any Corporation to administer the Oath, and grant the Certificate required by Law, upon the Removal of certain Goods to London, which have been sent into the Country for Sale) it is, amongst other things, enacted, that for and during the space of five years, to be computed from and after the said fifth day of July, one thousand seven hundred and seventy-two, there shall be drawn back and allowed for all teas which shall be sold after the fifth day of July, one thousand seven hundred and seventy-two, at the public sale of the united Company of Merchants of England, trading to the East-Indies, or which after that time shall be imported, by licence, in pursuance of the said therein and herein after mentioned act, made in the eighteenth year of the reign of his late Majesty King George the second, and which shall be exported from this kingdom, as merchandize, to Ireland, or any of the British colonies or plantations in America, three fifth parts of the several duties of customs which were paid upon the importation of such teas; which drawback or allowance, with respect to such teas as shall be exported to Ireland, shall be made to the exporter, in such manner, and under such rules, regulations, securities, penalties, and forfeitures, as any drawback or allowance was then payable, out of the duty of customs upon the exportation of foreign goods to Ireland; and with respect to such teas as shall be exported to the British colonies and plantations in America, the said drawback or allowance shall be made in such manner, and under such rules, regulations, penalties, and forfeitures, as any drawback or allowance payable out of the duty of customs upon foreign goods exported to foreign parts, was, could, or might be made, before the passing of the said act of the twelfth year of his Majesty's reign (except in such cases as are otherwise therein provided for:) And whereas it may tend to the benefit and advantage of the trade of the said united Company of Merchants of England, trading to the East-Indies, if the allowance of the drawback of the duties of customs upon all teas sold at the public sales of the said united Company, after the tenth day of May, one thousand seven hundred and seventy-three, and which shall be exported from this kingdom, as merchandize, to any of the British colonies or plantations in America, were to extend to the whole of the said duties of customs payable upon the importation of such teas; may it therefore please your Majesty that it may be enacted; and be it enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that there shall be drawn back and allowed for all teas, which, from and after the tenth day of May, one thousand seven hundred and seventy-three, shall be sold at the public sales of the said united Company, or which shall be imported by licence, in pursuance of the said act made in the eighteenth year of the reign of his late Majesty King George the second, and which shall, at any time hereafter, be exported from this kingdom, as merchandize, to any of the British colonies or plantations in America, the whole of the duties of customs payable upon the importation of such teas; which drawback or allowance shall be made to the exporter in such manner, and under such rules, regulations, and securities, and subject to the like penalties and forfeitures, as the former drawback or allowance granted by the said recited act of the twelfth year of his present Majesty's reign, upon tea exported to the said British colonies and plantations in America was, might or could be made, and was subject to by the said recited act, or any other act of Parliament now in force, in as full and ample manner, to all intents and purposes, as if the several clauses relative thereto were again repeated and re-enacted in this present act.

And whereas by one other act made in the 18th year of the reign of his late Majesty King George the Second (intituled, An Act for repealing the present inland Duty of Four Shillings per Pound Weight upon all Tea sold in Great-Britain; and for granting to his Majesty certain other inland Duties in Lieu thereof; and for better securing the Duty upon Tea, and other Duties of Excise; and for pursuing Offenders out of one Country into another) it is, amongst other things, enacted, that every person who shall, at any public sale of tea made by the united Company of Merchants of England, trading to the East-Indies, be declared to be the best bidder for any lot or lots of tea, shall, within three days after being so declared the best bidder or bidders for the same, deposite with the said united Company, or such clerk or officer as the said Company shall appoint to receive the same, forty shillings for every tub and for every chest of tea; and in case any such person or persons shall refuse or neglect to make such deposite within the time before limited, he, she, or they, shall forfeit and lose six times the value of such deposite directed to be made as aforesaid, to be recovered by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, in any of his Majesty's Courts of Record at Westminster, in which no essoin, protection, or wager of law, or more than one imparlance, shall be allowed; one moiety of which forfeiture shall go to his Majesty, his heirs, and successors, and the other moiety to such person as shall sue or prosecute for the same; and the sale of all teas, for which such deposite shall be neglected to be made as aforesaid, is thereby declared to be null and void, and such teas shall be again put up by the said united Company to public sale, within fourteen days after the end of the sale of teas at which such teas were sold; and all and every buyer or buyers, who shall have neglected to make such deposite as aforesaid, shall be, and is and are thereby rendered incapable of bidding for or buying any teas at any future public sale of the said united Company: And whereas it is found to be expedient and necessary to increase the deposite to be made by any bidder or bidders for any lot or lots of bohea teas, at the public sales of teas to be made by the said united Company; be it enacted by the authority aforesaid, that every person who shall, after the tenth day of May, one thousand seven hundred and seventy-three, at any public sale of tea to be made by the said united Company of Merchants of England, trading to the East-Indies, be declared to be the best bidder or bidders for any lot or lots of bohea tea, shall, within three days after being so declared the best bidder or bidders for the same, deposite with the said united Company, or such clerk or officer as the said united Company shall appoint to receive the same, four pounds of lawful money of Great-Britain for every tub and for every chest of bohea tea, under the same terms and conditions, and subject to the same forfeitures, penalties, and regulations, as are mentioned and contained in the said recited act of the eighteenth year of the reign of his said late Majesty.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, that it shall and may be lawful for the Commissioners of his Majesty's Treasury, or any three or more of them, or for the High Treasurer for the Time being, upon application made to them by the said united Company of Merchants of England, trading to the East-Indies for that purpose, to grant a licence or licences to the said united Company, to take out of their warehouses, without the same having been put up to sale, and to export to any of the British plantations in America, or to any parts beyond the seas, such quantity or quantities of tea, as the said Commissioners of his Majesty's Treasury, or any three or more of them, or the High Treasurer for the time being, shall think proper and expedient, without incurring any penalty or forfeiture for so doing; any thing in the said in-part recited act, or any other law, to the contrary notwithstanding.

And whereas by an act made in the ninth and tenth years of the reign of King William the third (intituled, An Act for raising a Sum not exceeding Two Millions, upon a Fund, for Payment of Annuities, after the Rate of Eight Pounds per Centum per Annum; and for settling the trade to the East-Indies) and by several other acts of Parliament which are now in force, the said united Company of Merchants of England, trading to the East-Indies, are obliged to give security, under their common seal for payment of the duties of customs upon all unrated goods imported by them, so soon as the same shall be sold; and for exposing such goods to sale, openly and fairly, by way of auction, or by inch of candle, within the space of three years from the importation thereof: And whereas it is expedient, that some provision should be made to permit the said united Company, in certain cases, to export tea, on their own account, to the British plantations in America, or to foreign parts, without exposing such tea to sale here, or being charged with the payment of any duty for the same; be it therefore enacted by the authority aforesaid, that from and after the passing of this act, it shall and may be lawful for the Commissioners of his Majesty's Treasury, or any three or more of them, or the High Treasurer for the time being, to grant a licence or licences to the said united Company, to take out of their warehouses such quantity or quantities of tea as the said Commissioners of the Treasury, or any three or more of them, or the High Treasurer for the time being, shall think proper, without the same having been exposed to sale in this kingdom; and to export such tea to any of the British colonies or plantations in America, or to any parts beyond the seas, discharged from the payment of any customs or duties whatsoever; any thing in the said recited act, or any other act, to the contrary notwithstanding Provided always, and it is hereby further enacted by the authority aforesaid, that a due entry shall be made at the custom-house, of all such tea so exported by licence, as aforesaid, expressing the quantities thereof, at what time imported, and by what ship; and such tea shall be shipped for exportation by the proper officer for that purpose, and shall, in all other respects, not altered by this act, be liable to the same rules, regulations, restrictions, securities, penalties, and forfeitures, as tea exported to the like places was liable to before the passing of this act: And upon the proper officer's duty, certifying the shipping of such tea to the Collector and Comptroller of his Majesty's Customs for the port of London, upon the back of the licence, and the exportation thereof, verified by the oath of the husband or agent for the said united Company, to be wrote at the bottom of such certificate and sworn before the said Collector and Comptroller of the Customs (which oath they are hereby impowered to administer) it shall and may be lawful for such Collector and Comptroller to write off and discharge the quantity of tea so exported from the warrant of the respective ship in which such tea was imported.

Provided nevertheless, that no such licence shall be granted, unless it shall first be made to appear to the satisfaction of the Commissioners of his Majesty's Treasury, or any three or more of them, or the High Treasurer for the time being, that at the time of taking out such teas, for the exportation of which a licence or licences shall be granted, there will be left remaining in the warehouses of the said united Company, a quantity of tea not less than ten millions of pounds weight; any thing herein, or in any other act of Parliament, contained to the contrary thereof notwithstanding.

THE growing Importance of the College of NEW-JERSEY, (for the Use of which the above Lottery is principally designed) is now generally known through every Province in America. It has hitherto subsisted, and been raised to its present Situation, entirely by the Favour of the Public. In the Centre of North-America, and in a pleasant, healthy Country, it is well suited for the most extensive Usefulness. The Success which has attended the vigorous Efforts already made, to raise its Funds, and furnish the Means of a complete and finished Education, to all who are sent to it, has encouraged those concerned in the present Attempt; especially as several very judicious Persons have warmly recommended it, signifying their Surprize, that at a Time, when so many have taken this Method of promoting public Undertakings, a SEMINARY, of such Importance, should not also put in for a Share of the general Benevolence. This, added to the other Schemes for the Support and Improvement of the College, will afford so many Friends of that Institution, an Opportunity of contributing with very little Risk of losing, and a considerable Chance of Gain to themselves, who would not incline that the small Sums they could spare, should appear in a Subscription Paper.

As a Number of Tickets are already engaged, and many Gentlemen of extensive Acquaintance have interested themselves in this Measure, the Drawing will commence the First Week in October next, in the Town of New Castle, on Delaware, and a List of the fortunate Numbers published, and sent to the several Towns and Places where the Tickets may be sold. The Prizes, after deducting Fifteen per Cent. for the Purposes of the Lottery, will be paid by the Gentlemen of whom they were purchased.

NEW THOUGHTS upon LUXURY.

NOTHING is more contagious, or ſpreads quicker through a nation, than this puerile vanity. A few examples are ſufficient to inſpire a general deſire for diſtinguiſhing by oſtentation. People will not cede to their equals a pre-eminence of which they think themſelves worthy. If with a moderate fortune we cannot equal others in ſhew, we muſt at leaſt give to every thing a certain taſte for delicacy and elegance: to this we conſecrate our induſtry, our time, and our money. And what is the conſequence? It is, that the fathers of families, impoveriſhed by their fooliſh profuſion, can neither attend effectually to the welfare of their children, nor cultivate with care their lands. Do they ſuffer loſs from epidemical diſtempers among their cattle, from froſts, or other accidents? or have they indiſpenſible repairs to make on their buildings? They are reduced to borrow money for ſuſtaining the expence; they heap up debts, which in the end bring them to ſuch indigence, that they are not able to improve their farms; but they will at all events continue to live with the ſame expence.

When Luxury is upon the throne, I know what a diſtaſte for labour ſeizes every mind. It inſpires, in truth, an ardent deſire of enriching one's-ſelf; but it is by means which require not care and pains to perform, but permits a quick acquiſition for an oſtentatious expence. The culture of the earth, which demands great œconomy, order, and continual care, is deſpiſed, becauſe it brings not rapid fortunes. This kind of labour cannot but diſpleaſe effeminate men, whoſe bodies are enervated with pleaſure. They find, at the ſame time, many things which ſhock their delicacy. The firſt Romans did not think themſelves diſhonoured by putting their hand to the plough with their ſlaves; but when they became the maſters of the world, they became the prey of luxury, and would no longer be companions in labour. The fields, which their anceſtors cultivated with ſo much attention, were carried off by enormous expences, and they came at laſt to be converted into uſeleſs decorations, and gardens of pleaſure, which ruined the proprietors.

Luxury carried infallible deſolation to the country. All the money was carried off----circulation was interrupted----induſtry languiſhed---national eaſe diminiſhed. What an immenſe quantity of neceſſary commodities is ſacrificed even by the poor for frivolous merchandize! It is a great evil when the rich fall into a luxury that encourages only the uſeleſs arts: it throws the expences of every one beyond his power, in conforming to cuſtom: this diſpeoples the country, and diſcourages the little intereſt taken in country labour. At length the workmen inſtrumental to luxury gain whatever they will by an eaſy labour, while the poor farmer languiſhes, and ſees no reſource. The rich man dreams not of expences that do not immediately concern himſelf; but places his wealth in annuities, for enjoying it in repoſe, independent on intemperate ſeaſons. Such being the ravages of luxury, what is to be done for reſtraining it in juſt bounds?

If in a country the fortunes were perfectly equal, there could be little luxury. Though it is impoſſible to introduce this equality of condition in theſe times; nevertheleſs, for preventing a luxury ever fatal, the ſpirit or laws ought to aim at it as much as poſſible, and at preventing many from accumulating on one head. Things ſhould be diſpoſed in ſuch a manner, that thoſe who ſerve the public may remain in an honeſt and decent mediocrity, and not be too much enriched by the employments which they occupy. The principal recompence ought to be the teſtimony of their conſcience, the reſpect of mankind, and the honour of governing well: for if at any time the employments which they exerciſe, and the commiſſions which they receive, give them the means of making immenſe profits, riches will preſently become too unequal, the ſpirit of moderation will vaniſh, and a frightful luxury, which corrupts every order, be raiſed to the throne. When the chiefs of a people are the firſt to give an example of a modeſt ſimplicity, and to ſhew a diſtance from every ſpecies of vanity, the ſame ſpirit will rapidly expand itſelf through all ranks: it would always be an honour then to imitate them.

Would you extinguiſh luxury? Give a ſingular protection to agriculture, which engages men to live in temperance and frugality, which is ever covering a country with inhabitants---rather than aggrandiſe cities and capitals. "The more men collect themſelves together, (ſays the illuſtrious Monteſquieu) the more vain they are, and the more envious they are in ſignalizing themſelves by trifles. They have more deſires, more wants, more fantaſies."

The manners of women merit alſo a ſingular attention. When every thing is allowed them, and we ſhut our eyes on their conduct, they give into finery and bagatelle with fury, and fill up the very meaſure of luxury. At Rome the cenſors watched the manners of the women, and many laws were made for repreſſing their luxury. What paſſes before our own eyes ſhews the neceſſity of renewing them. In the country, we ſee the wives even of the loweſt labourers give into a ſpecies of luxury, and ſpend in frivolous ornaments money, which ſhould be applied to the improvement of their lands, and the education of their children. In fine, the true means of proſcribing luxury is to form young men to ſimplicity, to give them juſt ideas of vain-glory, and to grant honours and flattering diſtinctions to talents and merit. If ever the falſe ſhackles of riches, and vain eclat, prevent timid virtue from being raiſed to the pre-eminence and conſideration which are its due, we ſhall ſee nothing but that miſery, which reſults, from dazzling the eyes of the public with a falſe magnificence. National emulation carries itſelf towards all that is worthy in man: it ſhould be an honour to live with œconomy, not only to avoid being expoſed to the ſhameful temptation of injuring others, but yet more for being in a ſtate of doing all the good whereof we are capable. We ought to labour with emulation to ſhew the moſt virtue, capacity, and diſintereſted love for our country. This is the beſt ſumptuary law that a government can enact againſt luxury.
